INTRODUCTION

These exercises are meant to keep you practicing thing we learn and what we are about to learn in the course. If you don't know how to solve any of the exercise, please first see the solution and try to figure it out, and if you still don't know how to solve them, please contact me.

The main goal of these exercises is for you to get familiar with HTML and CSS. So, as I said earlier if you get stuck on one, please first see the solution, or continue to the next one.

Best way to learn is to practice coding

HTML stands for Hyper Text Markup Language.
It is the core language of the world wide web and is used to define the structure and layout of web documents by using various tags and attributes.
Although a fundamental language of the web, HTML is a static language - content created with it does not change.
HTML is used to specify the way webpages look, not how they function.

EXERCISE 07

Print a paragraph that is a description of a book, include the title of the book as well as its author. Names and titles should be underlined, adjectives should be italicized and bolded.
One particular book which is recommended reading is The Street Lawyer by John Grisham. This book is about a lawyer who begins re-evaluating his priorities in life when a bad incident occurs within his law firm. Consequently, he becomes acquainted with the inner city streets, and realizes the harsh existence of the homeless, and vows to give them a chance in the courts. The Street Lawyer is a great book. It is well written and interesting. Other books by John Grisham include The Firm, The Pelican Brief, and The Client.
